

Reflection: Providing Academic Feedback

Take a moment to reflect how you will deliver effective academic feedback, particularly when covering new material. Ask yourself the following questions:

- Am I clear about the academic lesson objective and the criteria for good work?
- Have I designed the academic lesson so that materials are presented in small steps that allow for greater opportunities for academic responses?
- Have I created an environment in which academic feedback is an integral part of reviewing, guided practice, and reteaching?
- What might get in the way of giving academic feedback in my classroom?
- What do I need to make this happen in my classroom?

Complete the following sentences in your own words:

It is important for me to make this happen in my classroom because...

I am confident that I can effectively use academic feedback because...
