

Reflection: Teaching Behavior Expectations

Take a moment to make sure your plan is going to work. Ask yourself the following questions:

- Did I identify behavior expectations that are important and appropriate for my students and will allow them to be successful in my classroom?
- Do I have a plan for reviewing and practicing after I teach students the behavior expectations in my classroom?
- Are there some students who need more support and practice to learn behavior expectations? If there are, how can I provide this support?
- What will get in the way of using an attention signal in my classroom?
- How will I make sure that I use and practice the signal with my class?

Complete the following sentences in your own words:

It is important for me to make this happen in my classroom because...

I am confident that I can effectively teach my students the behavior expectations because...
